Our client is a dynamic and innovative software company for CAD/CAM software in the field of medical technology. For the location in Darmstadt our client is looking for a qualified:

Senior UX/UI Designer (m/f/d) – 40% - 60% remote possible

Job-ID: CF-00004268
Ort: Darmstadt

Your main tasks:

- Take a lead role in UX/UI design for an innovative, cross-enterprise new product focused on creating personalized digital experiences for all customers
- Create the user interaction model, visual design, interactive UI prototypes, and guidelines for the company's user interfaces
- Create UI and UX prototypes that development teams can understand and follow
- Continue to develop internal UI guidelines, collaborate with other designers on the team, and ensure that end users experience an optimal user experience
- Collaborate with product designers, product managers, and developers to drive the product from concept to launch
- Develop product requirements and concepts in the form of wireframes and designs
- Design flows and experiences that are functional, engaging, and simple
- Accountability for user experience on applicable projects: Interaction design, visual design, and prototyping designs
- Be tasked with creating new conceptual screens and visual elements using evolving guidelines and design patterns
- Design reviews - oversee design review meetings to ensure the global team stays in sync and deliverables are of the highest quality
- Work closely with the global design team

Your technical qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree (or higher) in Interface Design, Media Design, Communication Design, Media Design or Product Design or equivalent experience/training
- 6+ years of professional experience, ideally in a fast-paced environment for an internet or e-commerce company (preferably with agile methodology)
- Experience leading and overseeing product design and development processes for customer-facing products
- Extensive experience in interface design, new product development
- Strong visual skills and experience working with design systems (style guides and pattern libraries)
- Ability to actively and effectively collaborate in multidisciplinary teams
- Proven experience with Android and iOS as well as web products
- Extensive knowledge of mobile-first design principles and current industry UX/UI trends
- Proficiency with Figma and/or Adobe XD (and other Adobe tools), whiteboarding, and team collaboration
- Delivery of pixel-perfect production assets in Figma and/or Adobe XD
- Willingness to learn the latest UX/UI design trends and technologies
- Very good English skills

- German language skills are an advantage

Your personal qualifications:

- Self-realiant way of working
- Conscientiousness

Our client offers:

Exciting and varied activities in a dynamic and growth-oriented software company. You can expect flat structures and efficient decision-making processes. You can look forward to a positive working atmosphere that promotes both individual freedom and responsibility. Furthermore, you can expect a strong team spirit and a very good working atmosphere as well as modern offices and workplaces. Flexible working hours and home office options are a matter of course.

Your Contact Person:
Cagla Özcan
auteega GmbH
Kaiserring 14-16
68161 Mannheim

Phone: +49 621 122 664 12
E-Mail: cagla.oezcan@auteega.com
Apply now