

Our client is a wholly owned subsidiary of a worldwide insurance company offering a full range of managed services encompassing Data Management, Risk Controlling, Performance Analysis and Reporting for investments. As a one-stop shop for custom analysis and reporting solutions, the company provides scalable capabilities to handle any production volume. Asset Managers, Institutional Investors and Custodians rely on our client as an internationally operating partner for dependable long-term support. The key advantage of our client is a comprehensive coverage of business processes along the entire investment value chain. Backed by specialized technical and industry expertise, our customer delivers rapid results, while our clients concentrate on their core business as well as getting a decisive leg up on the competition.

For its location in Munich our client is looking for a qualified:

IT Project Manager (m/f/d) - Infrastructure, Platform and Workplace

Job-ID: CF-00005188

Job-Ort: München

Remoteanteil / Home Office: 60%

Your main tasks:

- Manage provider driven infrastructure, platform and workplace projects with different levels of complexity on the basis of existing methods, processes and tools
- Create and maintain project definition, project charter, project plan and offer; support the creation of the statement of work
- Manage and coordinate stakeholders and build a project communication structure
- Ensure on time, on budget and high quality project deliverables and high customer / stakeholder satisfaction
- Advise customers / stakeholders and actively clarify their expectations and requirements
- Handling of provider driven changes in the area of workplace and communication towards the provider and within the company

Your technical qualifications:

- University degree/ Apprenticeship in (business) information technology, mathematics, economics with IT focus or comparable degree
- Professional experience or knowledge in managing workplace environments
- Good understanding of modern workplace platforms, systems and applications
- Project management experience preferably within an IT environment
- Experience of working with IT providers is an advantage
- Fluent English language skills

- German language skills are highly appreciated

Your personal qualifications:

- Excellent customer orientation as well as communication skills towards team members and internal customers
- Ability to clearly communicate complex topics to both technical and not technical people as well as explaining abstract concepts
- Structured, analytical and target orientated working approach

Our client offers:

- Exciting challenges in a demanding, international project and customer environment
- A modern working environment that meets the highest standards in one of the most attractive cities in Europe
- An attractive salary package and good social benefits
- A wide range of training and development opportunities

Ihr Ansprechpartner:

Adrian Weinast

auteega GmbH
Kaiserring 14-16
68161 Mannheim

Telefon: +49 621 122 664 11

E-Mail: adrian.weinast@auteega.com

Jetzt bewerben